IPEDS Data Feedback Report – January 2026 Edition

Figure 14. Retention rates of first-time degree/certificate seeking students, by attendance status: Fall 2023 cohort

NOTE: Retention rates are measured from the fall of first enrollment to the following fall. Academic reporting institutions report retention data for the Fall 2023 cohort of students who are still enrolled as of the institution's official fall reporting date or as of October 15, 2024. Program reporters determine the cohort with enrollment any time between August 1 - October 31, 2023 and retention based on August 1, 2024. Four-year institutions report retention rates for students seeking a bachelor's degree. For more details, see the Methodological Notes. N is the number of institutions in the comparison group that have a value for each indicator.

Notes:

1. Postsecondary sectors are defined as (1) Michigan community colleges and tribally controlled institutions, (2) Michigan public universities and (3) Michigan 4-year independent colleges and universities. A student is assigned to a sector with their first degree-seeking enrollment in that sector.
2. Reporting in the STARR Collection is conditionally required for tribal colleges and 4-year independent colleges and universities. This report only includes tribal and independent entities that opted in to provide full reporting in STARR. To be included, schools must annually report for enough years for a given cohort to achieve successes (two years for tribal colleges, four years for 4-year independent institutions).
3. Values that are missing (charts) or replaced (tables) indicate a population size below 10 individuals and/or a percentage below 5% or above 95%.

For more information on how the success rates are calculated, please consult the About This Report heading above, as well as the Understanding Michigan's Postsecondary Success Rates document located on the Success Rates Summary Page.

The Success Rates report and data files show the number of degree-seeking students who enter a Michigan postsecondary community college or public university and achieve a successful outcome. This includes data for Michigan's 28 community colleges and 15 public universities, along with aggregate metrics for the community college and public university sectors broken out by race/ethnicity and gender.

Successful outcomes include:

- Earning a certificate
- Earning an associate degree
- Earning a bachelor's degree
- Transferring to a university (for community college students)

These rates capture both part- and full-time enrollment for all degree-seeking students as well as mobility between institutions.

RETURN ON INVESTMENT

Return on Investment (ROI) is a methodology for determining the monetary value of completing a higher education program. Students, parents, and counselors can use ROI to make informed decisions regarding a student's career pathway. The Pathfinder ROI tool is useful in comparing the relative value of programs as well as in measuring the expected monetary benefit of a selected program of study. This documentation defines program level ROI and then details the methodology used in Pathfinder to estimate it.

Definition

In the Pathfinder tool, Return on Investment is defined as the present value of a thirty year stream of wages for a college graduate, less

- The estimated total net price of a student's degree program;
- The present value of a thirty year stream of wages for a high school graduate with no additional education;
- The opportunity cost, measured in foregone wages, incurred by attending college.

In summary, ROI can be interpreted as measuring how much more a college degree is worth, on average, than a high school degree over the first thirty years of the working life of an individual.
